George C. Scott, the incredible character actor who played "Patton" on the screen, turning down any proffered "Oscar", and in Emily Bronte's play on TV the other night, was a Mizzou Journalism student, though he never graduated. It was not my fortune to meet Scott, but did watch him work in Stephens Playhouse as a staff actor in Columbia, Mo., in the early 1950s.

Scott is the subject of a TIME magazine cover article of late. It emphasizes his independent character.

One story about him will suffice. About 10 years ago, he became disgruntled with roles available to him on Broadway. So he went to Detroit and put some of his own money into a playhouse for a season or two. The calibre of theatre was high and experimental, but the gate was poor. And the undertaking went broke.

Now he is one of the finest character actors in the world. It is best, perhaps, he was unentirely inclined. His work in "Patton" by Patton family judgment was Patton. Talent will out.

Thanks to Mrs. W. A. Hoffson, of Washington, D.C., for her gracious acknowledgment of what Cameron is doing to get letters of support for prisoners in North Vietnam.

Cameron cares, Mrs. Hoffson. It is a real concern, not some dribble-dry wall over a bad condition. These real people are the ones who encourage those letters and do things others might only cry over. You honor their efforts.

Approximately 136 rural area citizens living along the proposed lines have already signed up as members and more are expected to join.

Next step will be for the project engineer to complete and submit his report about the new extension to FHA supervisor Henry Ivey in Cameron so he in turn can submit it to the FHA state office in Austin.

The Milam Water Corporation at present has 184 members on its lines in Milam, along Highway 79 and up 36 to the Griffin Chapel area.

The corporation, now in operation about five years, was in healthy financial condition according to the secretary's report, in spite of some losses during 1970 due to a pump breakdown and the purchase of water until repairs were made.

The report showed that sales of water to its customers during 1970 totaled $12,878.20. The Corporation's total reserves, including certificates of deposit, savings and similar accounts totaled $8,638.19. Payments to the FHA included $7,204.04 in interest on its loan and $1,728.04 on the principal for a total of $8,932.08.

Members of the corporation re-elected the 1970 Board of Directors for the coming year. They are L. E. Love, E. C. Westbrook, J. C. Hayman, O. T. Bullock and Frank Nelson.

PTA Program To Feature Special Guest Speaker

A program on "The Development of the Individual" will be presented at the Cameron Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday (tonight) at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in Ben Milam School cafeteria.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Verne Laws, career guidance consultant at the Texas Education Agency. He is speaking at the invitation of Yoe High School Counselor Mrs. Ruth Sharp and Yoe Principal Jack Chubb.

Laws' career in education includes teaching, being a principal and coach, and guidance counselor in public schools. He graduated from Oklahoma City University and received his master's degree from Oklahoma University. Laws also did graduate work at Texas Tech and The University of Texas.

All parents are urged to attend the Thursday night meeting.

Local Trustee Candidates Offer Views

The four candidates for two positions on the Cameron Independent School District board of trustees were invited by The Herald to offer a statement on their candidacy.

The candidates are Mrs. Reeves (Betsy) Brown, Calvin Cobb, Max Shuemate, and Dr. John Martin. Cobb is seeking re-election to the post he has held for 4 1/2 years. He is the only incumbent.

The Herald invited candidates to tell about their qualifications for election or re-election, including educational background, children in school, leadership activities, etc.

They were also asked to tell why they were seeking election or re-election, and what their position is on a bond issue where the need was clearly shown for physical improvements within the school system.

Statements were offered by Mrs. Brown, Dr. Martin, and Cobb. Shuemate said he did not have a statement.

The statements follow:

To serve on the Board of Trustees of a school district is a duty to those of us who may be able to contribute to the education of our youth.

Having served on the Board of Trustees of the Cameron School District four and one-half years, I feel I have had a small part in improving of the school system, both physically and from a scholastic standpoint.

As a member of the Board, we may not get our way in all cases, but I believe when seven people of sound judgment decide a matter, the decision will, in most cases, be right if all information is available.

The Cameron School Board, as I know it, has worked to improve and maintain the school plant, improve curriculum, and be fair with the taxpayers.

I feel that I am qualified to serve on the Board for the following reasons: four and one-half years on the Board; my business experience (25 years farm-

Contested Trustee Races Await Voters

School trustee elections in Milam County have drawn three contested races, at Cameron, Thorndale and Milam. Elections are scheduled for Saturday, April 3, at Cameron, Rockdale, Buckholts, Maysfield, Gause, Milam, Thorndale and Rogers.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at each of the 8 schools. Voting in Cameron will be at the Yoe High gymnasium.

Contested races are in Cameron where four candidates seek two school board posts; Thorndale with five candidates for three places; Milam with four candidates for three places.

Candidates for the school board election in Cameron are:

Calvin Cobb, incumbent, a farmer and rancher, member of the Cameron Rotary Club and resident of Cameron. He has served 4 1/2 years on the Cameron School Board, first appointed to the post and later elected to a three year term.

Mrs. Betsy Brown, wife of a Salem area farmer, active in church and civic work in Cameron. Mrs. Brown was a candidate for the Cameron School Board in the 1969 election, losing by one vote.

Dr. John Martin, local chiropractor and resident of Cameron, active in local and district Lions Club work and a former member of the Cameron School Board. Martin lost his bid for re-election in the 1970 school board election when a close vote elected three of five candidates.

Max Schumate is a news carrier, a resident of Cameron, member of the Yoemen Booster Club and Yoe Band Booster Club. This is his first bid for election to the School Board.

MILANO

Four candidates for three places in the Milam School Trustee election are Stanley E. Betchan, Ben Earl Lagrone and Joe C. Willingham, all incumbents, and Charles W. Talbot.

THORNDALE

Five candidates for two places in the Buckholts School Trustee election are incumbents Doyal Arnold and Alvin Fuchs.

ROCKDALE

Three candidates for three places in the Rockdale School Board election are Mercer Cotton, Emory C. Camp and Dr. L. E. Selden.

GAUSE

Three candidates for three places in the Gause School Trustee election are Hollis Mathews, Wayne Lee, and D. S. Smith, Jr.

MAYSFIELD

Unopposed candidate for the Maysfield School Board is Todd Parcous.

Three candidates for three regular vacancies on the Board of Trustees of the Rogers Independent School District are C. O. Gunter and Randolph Green, incumbents, and Doyle Ray who filed for the expiring position held by D. D. Ward. Ward did not seek re-election. Daniel Lesikar, appointed by the Board in 1970 to the vacancy left by Edwin Psencik, is the only candidate for this one-year term.

Voters in Precinct 3 of Milam County (Gause and Milam) will also elect a representative to the County School Board. Bennie D. Williams is the only candidate for the post.

POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING? This bumper sticker was spotted on a car parked near the courthouse and shows that Abilene at least is trying to do something about the current Texas drought. Maybe totally concentrated thought waves from enough Texans could have a dampening affect on the weather, who knows?

New Customers To Join Water System

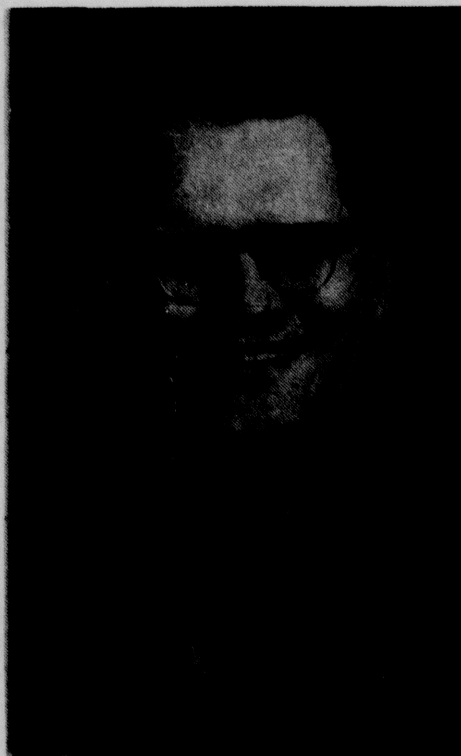

The Milam Water Supply Corporation held its annual meeting recently and during the session re-elected its Board of Directors and voted on expanding and extending its water lines to serve more than 100 new customers.

Members also heard a report from the Corporation's secretary, J. C. Hayman, on the financial condition of the water system.

Although election of officers for the year 1971 was an important item on the agenda, the highlight of the meeting was the vote to extend the water system's lines by a total of approximately 60 miles. The vote was 45 for the extension to 5 against the project.

As outlined by the engineer's plans, one segment of the proposed new lines will extend from Milam northeast up Highway 79 almost to Gause. Another longer line will run from Milam south generally paralleling Highway 36 and will extend past Christman for three or four miles in the direction of Caldwell.

The present well near Milam will serve both the old and the new lines and is said to have more than enough capacity to handle the increased demand. However, it is proposed to have two booster stations located on the south line, one in the Friendship area, and the other in the area near the old rock house near Elevation. Each would have storage tanks of 20,000 gallons capacity.

DR. JOHN MARTIN

Mrs. Brown

I am seeking election to the Cameron Independent School District Board in order to actively serve the school and the community. I am keenly interested in young people and am challenged by the educational process which is constantly finding new methods or improved methods to which I want Cameron to stay attuned, always seeking the best of what is available for our students.

I attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock with a major in agricultural business.

My son will be a first grader in Cameron this fall. As to activities, I am a member of the Arts and Service League and of the First Methodist Church.

Most of my activities center around home, family, and helping my husband with our farm and ranch.

Thresholds Of Mercy....

"The verdict is in" for Lt. Calley and the My Lai massacre as well as Charles Manson et al in the Sharon Tate et al murders.

Both cases are sensational. Few precedents exist for the dramatic and historic implications.

Army Lt. William Calley was convicted by a military tribunal of murdering 22 Vietnamese in 1968. Three others in separate cases have been acquitted and 20 have been exonerated of similar charges. The difference was Calley was platoon leader.

In California Manson and three woman followers received the death penalty from a 12-member jury amid now characteristic shouts and demonstrations from the defendants. It is unlikely any of the four will see the gas chamber. No one has been executed in California since 1967 and no woman has been executed there since 1962.

It is ironic both verdicts came on Monday. They involve two areas of American contemporary life which grab at the substance of our values.

Manson is a wild-eyed leader of a commune life-style whose errata finally burst in the slaughter of seven people, including actress Sharon Tate. The nine-month trial rocked with Manson's verbal vendettas against society, perhaps evoking more disgust among Americans than any prior trial of persons charged in murder.

It might have happened elsewhere, but it happened in California, where this nation's "plastic society" has drawn so much resource. Of course trial of the "Chicago Seven" and the "Seattle Six" involved similar attacks on American social and political life, but the events never were so bloody or so senseless.

Lt. Calley's case is a military question of command responsibility. A platoon sergeant was acquitted of similar charges at Fort Hood a few months ago. Calley apparently was the ranking commissioned officer at My Lai.

Questions will plague military justice even after Lt. Calley is sentenced.

What can a unit commander, whether platoon, company or battalion, expect if he issues orders to "search and destroy" some future time in combat? Is the Calley verdict against his lack of humanity or his following orders? We all know "war is hell" and that innocents and unarmed people have been killed in every prior war. But Americans know about this one. Is that the only difference?

The Manson case came up late in 1969, the final year of an incredible decade in American life. Hip types and student rebellion, not necessarily related, but look alike in some attributes of dress at least, confronted Western values from Haight-Ashbury on.

Manson and his followers are drop outs, disassociated from the rest of society. At Manson's behest, they struck, as much out of whim as "back." Manson's hold on his female followers reminds of Rasputin and his influence over Czarina Alexandra in the days before the Russian Revolution.

Both cases stick like leeches to our basic values. They bleed us. They raise welts. They weaken.

By these verdicts, we try to clear the parasite. But it is trying. For if these events are not of our creation, we supply the blood and strike only when our thresholds of mercy are breached.

Vital To Open Society...

Several proposals are before the Texas Legislature which would reduce public notice relating to divorce, bids on public works, sale of real estate, Constitutional amendments and a few others.

Texas generally is considered a state with "minimum" public notice required by statute to inform litigants and principals of court actions affecting clients, property, and indebtedness.

Lawmakers sometime incline to think of required public notice or legal notice as a dividend for newspapers whenever litigation so touched is begun.

Public notice as a part of probate proceedings, for example, is a minute part compared to the cost of will probation in most states.

But certain areas of legal publication in Texas should be strengthened, not reduced. Whenever notice is given on any legal proceeding--with adequate display and adequate publication -- the principals will know of its publication. And the general public, if of a mind, can know because the publication is in print and of record. Citizens go often to the newspaper, but seldom to the courthouse.

Most newspapers, not just many are understaffed, unable to pore over records to cite all the cases except by title, which are of public interest. It is only print media which seek this function at all.

Public notice is an advisory that something is about to happen or in the process of happening which touches more than the life of one person.

The number of publications of a legal notice is not sacrosanct other than the importance of its content. And the news departments of print media normally develop stories elaborating on major developments within the established ken of public notice.

But were it not for public notice at times, no one-- repeat-- no one would know about developments which are of inherent public character. And this service, no matter how mobile our population, is vital to an open society, Texas or anywhere, and of small cost.

Senate Hearings Center On Corporate Income Tax

By Vern Sanford

Senate hearings on a multi-hundred-million-dollar tax bill are under way, and where they stop nobody knows.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes indicated they may continue for a week or two.

Key argument as hearings opened centered on whether the state should have a corporation income tax.

Texas economy will be slowed down by the corporate income levy, argued Tom Sealy of Midland, representing the new Texas Association of Taxpayers, at hearings before the State Affairs Committee.

Corporate profits tax, countered AFL-CIO President H.S. (Hank) Brown, will meet revenue needs and "create balance between corporate and consumer taxes."

Sealy backed the House-passed increase of sales tax from 3.25 per cent to four per cent, but said his group needs more time to formulate a complete tax plan.

Brown favored a six per cent corporation profits tax, which he said would raise $600 million over the next two years.

Business, said Sealy, already pays 34 per cent of the state sales tax.

Consumers and non-business interests, said Brown, pay 62 per cent of all state taxes, while business pays 31.7 per cent in direct levies, including its share of the sales tax.

Minimum tax bill, said Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris, based on the Senate's Finance Committee budget proposals, would be $643 million for the coming biennium.

Lieutenant Governor Barnes said he hopes to have the tax bill on the Senate floor for debate by April 12.

House of Representatives, said Appropriations Committee Chairman Rep. W.S. Healy of Paducah, will have the budget bill ready for debate by Easter.

WELFARE CUTS ORDERED

True to advance warnings, Welfare Board ordered a cut in Aid to Families with Dependent Children effective May 1.

Average grant of $118 a month will be reduced to approximately $80, about one-third of current payments. CUTBACK ALSO WILL MINUTE $,900 FAMILIES FROM A ROLL.

Gov. Preston Smith expressed regrets, but said he has no legal authority to alter the cut, since the state has reached the $80 million a year ceiling for welfare outlays.

Smith gave his endorsement to the constitutional amendment (Amendment 3) to be voted on May 18 which will raise the ceiling.

CRIME FUNDS RECEIVED

Texas has received an additional $10.78 million for funding crime-fighting projects in the state during fiscal 1971.

New award was made on approval of the 1971 Criminal Justice Plan for Texas prepared by the staff of the governor's office. It brings to $18,393 million the total block action grant for crime control projects for the current fiscal year.

Texas' plan sets out a five-year program for upgrading criminal justice with 12 broad programs subdivided into 62 categories. Funds are administered by the governor with advice of a 22-member Criminal Justice Council.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court upheld an injunction against a Coleman businessman who sold liquor and food in the same building. Texas attorney general's office is studying the case to determine how far-reaching it is.

Court of Criminal Appeals held in a San Patricio County case that inmates serving life sentences are eligible for parole after 15 years of sentenced before the 1967 change of law.

Same court, reversing its own ruling, knocked out murder convictions of two men for a Westlaco knife slaying.

O.I.D

PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Although I'm not clear in my mind what the canceled SST jet airplane was for -- oh, I know it'd go 1800 miles an hour and would get people from New York to Paris 4 hours quicker than they can go now but that wouldn't do any good, most of 'em would come back -- still I have been following the debate in Congress as close as I could, what with there not being many interesting sports events on television now anyway and political scandals in the papers are so frequent they're becoming monotonous.

I'll admit I've never been able to understand the financial part of it, like why the government should pay a private company to make an airplane to sell to private airlines to haul private passengers in, and even less have I been able to understand why a private company would undertake the job on the impractical hope that Congress wouldn't change its mind half-way through its financing of the project. You'd think people running a big company like that would have more knowledge of Congressmen.

They could have asked any farmer, whose government checks this year aren't going to be nearly as much as they've been in the past. I learned long ago a man's got to learn to live with Congress and dig in when he has to.

Another thing about the SST is that it's an airplane three stories high and as long as a football field, and I got to thinking, if it didn't fly, why couldn't they use it for an enclosed stadium? But then I got to checking up and while it's true it is 100 yards long, the same distance as a football field, some designer goofed and didn't leave any room for the end-zones. Somebody'd get killed crashing over for a touchdown and going through the nose or tail of the thing.

There are a lot of things about government I don't understand.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SOVIET UNION REJECTS
COEXISTENCE IDEA

REP. JOHN G. SCHMITZ (Calif.) "... This is a good time to take another look at the Civil Defense procedures and doctrine of the Soviet Union. An article in SURVIVE magazine by Leon Goure, one of America's foremost authorities on Civil Defense matters, ... brings us to date on Soviet efforts in this field. ... (The condensed article follows:)

Soviet Civil Defense:
Current Doctrine
(By Leon Goure)

The Soviet Union suffered the equivalent loss of more than ten (large) cities in 1941 when the Germans occupied most of European Russia, yet it survived.

Unfortunately, the men in the Kremlin, while they are likely to view a war initiated by the United States as a "catastrophe," DO NOT BELIEVE WAR TO BE "UNTHINKABLE." Indeed, they regard the possibility of war as sufficiently real to require the Soviet Union to continue to invest its relatively scarce resources not only in a deterrent capability, but more significantly in what they appear to believe may be a capability to SURVIVE AND WIN IT.

One striking aspect of the Soviet treatment of this question is that it in no way reflects the MORE OPTIMISTIC VIEWS SOMETIMES HELD IN THE WEST. Despite the SALT negotiations and efforts to reduce East - West tensions, Soviet views on peaceful coexistence are far removed from ours. SOVIET SPOKESMEN REJECT THE NOTION THAT PEACEFUL COEXISTENCE SIGNIFIES

ANY REAL MODERATION IN THE EAST - WEST RELATIONS. For example, an article in the government newspaper, IZVESTIYA, states that: "We live in an age of acute struggle between the two systems in the world arena. Imperialism has not laid down its arms. The international situation requires that we should strengthen the defense potential and combat readiness of the Soviet troops. This is our sacred duty."

First Deputy Chief of the Civil Defense Staff of the USSR has described the most optimistic version of what may happen to the Soviet Union: "One must keep in mind that the aggressors (i.e. U.S.) will not be able to make full use for their purposes of their strategic means of attack. A PORTION OF THEIR MEANS OF WEAPONS DELIVERY WILL BE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED BEFORE THEIR LAUNCHING--WHILE THEY ARE STILL ON THEIR LAUNCH SITES, BASES AND AIRFIELDS; another portion will be destroyed or damaged in flight by weapons of the Air Defense."

"We stand on the premise that in nuclear warfare the one who will hold out will be he who is able to preserve peoples lives, to insure continuity of management and the survivability of production of the national economy, and to safeguard crops and livestock from destruction."

Forced Fingerprinting

Arrested for a traffic offense, Harold objected strenuously to being fingerprinted. He finally gave in, but only under protest. Shortly afterward he filed suit against the city, demanding that his prints be destroyed.

"They were taken by force," he pointed out at a court hearing. "That was a violation of my constitutional rights. According to the Fifth Amendment, no one shall be forced to be a witness against himself."

However, the court ruled against Harold, saying he could no more withhold his fingerprints than he could mask his face or cover up a tattoo. "The witness does not testify," said the court. "The facts speak for themselves."

Generally speaking, courts have agreed that forced fingerprinting is not a violation of the Fifth Amendment.

But another objection has also been raised: isn't this an invasion of privacy? A man arrested on a misdemeanor charge made that argument in opposing the fingerprint procedures of the local police.

But this objection too was turned down in court. Calling attention to the great need for fingerprinting in law enforcement, the judge said:

"The right of privacy has its limitations and is not always superior to the rights of the public. The taking of fingerprints is a humiliation to which a possibly innocent person must submit for the benefit of society."

Of course fingerprints, like all facts, are neutral. They may be just as useful in proving a man's innocence as in proving his guilt.

In a murder case, a bottle found at the scene of the killing had several fingerprints on it.

But none matched those of the man arrested for the crime. The prosecutor decided that since the prints did not help his case, he would not bring them into court at all.

But at the trial, the defense attorney said the fingerprint evidence should be brought in for the benefit of the prisoner. To the court, this was "elemental justice." The prints were duly displayed to the jury--and helped the prisoner go free.

THINK ABOUT THIS

The American Dairy Association says that by the time he is 70, the average American will have used 26 millions tons of water, 10,000 pounds of meat, 14 tons of milk and cream, 9,000 pounds of wheat and other great quantities of products from the earth. And who says agriculture is a declining industry?

Swine Shortcourse Set For April 5,6

By J. D. Moore

The 20th Annual Swine Short Course will be held on the campus of Texas A&M University, April 5 and 6.

As in the past years, producers and others interested in the swine industry will have an opportunity to hear outstanding speakers discuss such timely topics as respiratory diseases and their interactions, hedging another profitable tool, and what can be done to improve reproductive efficiency.

We are fortunate to have Dr. M. J. Twiehaus, who is head of the Department of Veterinary Science at the University of Nebraska, on the program to discuss respiratory diseases of swine and the SPF program.

Dr. E. J. Stevermer, swine specialist for the Iowa Extension Service, will be here to discuss reproduction and ways to overcome reproductive failures. There is a lot of interest in this subject throughout the swine producing areas of the state.

Ben Glazer, from the Chicago office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, will discuss the important subject of hedging.

Other topics and speakers include: Methods of Feeding Sows by Dr. Leland Tribble of the Animal Science Department of Texas Tech; Dr. T. D. Tanksley, John Beverly and Woodrow Bailey of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will discuss such topics as Swine Nutrition Research at Texas A&M, Board Semen Characteristics, and On-the-Farm Feed Mixing Considerations.

Swine producers such as Donald Osbourn, the 1971 Texas Pork All-American, Bruce Winn and Roy Poage will present topics, as well as County Agents Ronald Bailey and Lee Roy Colgan.

A program is being planned for the wives of those attending the short course. A highlight at the banquet on Monday evening will be the presentation of the Master Pork Producer Award and the crowning of the 1971-72 Texas Pork Queen.

Registration will be Monday morning, April 5 on the second floor of the Memorial Student Center. The program will last through Tuesday morning.

SWINE QUARANTINE

Swine Hog Cholera regulations are putting movement of feeder pigs into a bind. Due to the increase in hog cholera cases near Milam County, restrictions have been placed in the movement of feeder pigs.

Beginning March 29, no feeder pigs will be unloaded at the local auction barn. Feeder pigs moved from one farm to another must have a health clearance permit. Producers are advised to contact local veterinarians concerning feeder pig movement regulations.

CUTWORMS

Several cases of cutworm damage to garden vegetables have been reported.

For cutworm control apply 1% chlordane (greenlight) dust, Sevin, DDT, Toxaphene - DDT on the soil around the base of the plants.

FARM and CITY

WHOSE FARM IS THIS? - The Herald still has some of the aerial photos of Milam County farms and ranches taken in 1958.

Farmers Survival May Depend On Use Of Debt

COLLEGE STATION

"Without question," said Dr. John Hopkin, agricultural finance specialist in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, "debt will play a much more important role in farm financial management in the future than it has in the past."

Hopkin is not advocating the farmer should stay out of debt. Instead, he believes the judicious use of debt will be the only way many farmers can survive.

Because of new technology, the farmer must adopt new methods to remain competitive. But, when he does, "he incurs an investment and operating cost structure that forces him to expand his operation to exploit the new economics of scale which the new technology has made possible," said Hopkin, also Stiles Professor in the Agricultural Economics Department at Texas A&M University.

"A farmer can no longer merely be the traditional tiller of the soil - the proverbial man with the hoe," the Stiles Professor said. "Rather, he is a businessman. Above all else, he is a manufacturer who buys raw materials as resource inputs with which to manufacture products for a given market."

Pressure to increase size of farm operations will continue to be severe, so the role of capital in agricultural production and marketing requires knowledge of business and financial management.

The average investment per farm is more than five times as high now as it was 20 years ago, and operating expenses per farm have increased about as much.

No longer can the farmer depend on savings retained out of farm earnings to expand his operation. The new capital requirement is too great, according to Hopkin, and the profit margins in agriculture are getting too low.

"The farm family is no longer content to live at standards way below the rest of the nation in order to plow back the earnings into the farm organizations," he said.

Where will this abated capital come from?

"The better farms have learned how to use debt to leverage their own capital position and expand their management," Hopkin said. "According to the 1964 census, 80 percent of the Class 1 farms had operator debt that year, compared to only 47 percent of the Class 6 farms. The average debt per farm for the better farmers was $68,000 compared to $3,800 for the low income farms."

While it is obvious the modern farmer has to be adept with numerous skills, "none will be so essential as financial skills," the economist pointed out.

The farmer must be skilled in capital budgeting and in analyzing alternative investment opportunities to see that capital is invested where the payoff is greatest.

He must be able to generate both the equity and borrowed capital he needs to remain conservative, and he must be able to analyze and interpret records so that, basically, he can prove to the right people that he is making financial progress, that his business is profitable, and that he can generate the cash when needed to repay his loans.

Hopkin defined credit as "the power to sell debt. As such, it is a resource to be built, to be conserved, to be managed and marketed in the same way that other commodities must be produced, managed, and marketed."

"If you can sell his credit for a higher price than another, this fact could be more important to his financial progress and growth than selling his steer for a higher price," Hopkin said.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

A lot of laughs, interesting facts and demonstrations, fellowship, and good things to eat high lighted the annual Milam County 4-H county Eliminations held at Simon George Hall last week.

The 4-H County Eliminations are held as preview and training sessions for 4-H'ers with demonstrations and other contest.

Now might be a good time to explain what a 4-H demonstration is. A demonstration is a method of teaching in which the 4-H'er presents a topic that is of educational value. The demonstration carries through one main theme and presents points to prove that quote.

The use of visual aid charts and graphs add to the effectiveness of the demonstration. The 4-H demonstration teaches the individual to organize his material and present it in a manner that is both educational and entertaining.

Those 4-H'ers that qualify for district competition in Stephenville, April 17 are:

Sr. Division: Dairy Judging Team: Clyde Jistel, Joseph Jistel, Donald Fleming and Daniel Richardson. Poultry Judging Team: David Ehler, Robert Riola, Jerry Mueck, and Ricky Rich-

Civil Defense: Deborah and Peggy Stephens. Tractor Driving: Martin Mueck. Livestock Judging: Aruthur Garza, Landis Bayless, Richard and Rufus Lamere

Share the fun: Christine Jones, Mary Lou Jones, Stanley Rosemond, Bertha Rosemond, Billy Wheeler, Macie Clifton, Home Improvement: Belinda Helpert, 4-H Food Show: Josi Garza and Connie Cone.

Safety demonstration: Wilbert Clifton. Public Speaking: Carolyn Helpert.

Jr. Division: Tractor Driving: Dennis Mueck; Entomology Team: Dennis Mueck; Entomology Team: Rebecca and Peter Riola, Gery Hollas, and Barbara Winkler; Safety Demonstration: Brian and Ronald Cobb; Food Show: Priscilla Lamere and Rosemary Ehler.

Everyone is invited to go with us April 17 and support Milam County 4-H'ers in this contest.

Many Farm Workers Not Receiving Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON

Expressing concern that substantial numbers of farm workers covered by the Federal minimum-wage law are not receiving their rightful wages, the Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division promises a stepped-up effort to bring covered farms into compliance with the law.

Wage and Hour Administrator Robert D. Moran called upon the Division's field investigators to undertake an educational effort with farm workers and their employers on their wage rights and responsibilities under the Federal law.

If this educational effort does not produce more substantial compliance, he said, action will be sought against people who employ farm labor at least than the agricultural minimum wage rate.

That rate is currently $1.30 per hour.

Moran declared that "untold thousands of farm workers are either unaware of the $1.30 an hour minimum wage in agriculture or do not call violations to the attention of the Department of Labor for fear of losing their jobs."

Similarly, he said, "Many farm employers do not appear to be aware of the requirements which the law imposes."

In his message to the Wage-Hour Division's field staff of more than 900 Compliance Officers, the Administrator declared: "Our mission must be to educate and to dispel fear in the cause of fulfilling our responsibilities under the Fair Labor Standards Act in all covered employment, particularly in agriculture where wage-law violations appear to be widespread."

He added that "in so doing we can take added pride and satisfaction in the elimination of privation and hardship which exists at this time among many of those who work with and follow the crops."

ASCS NEWS

By Douglas Buck

There are several different methods producers may choose from in order to preserve allotment and base history credit under the 1971 farm programs. These methods apply only to wheat, cotton, and feed grain. Wheat and cotton allotments or feed grain bases can be preserved by:

1. Planting at least 45 percent of the feed grain base or 90 percent of the cotton or wheat allotment as applicable. This method applies whether or not the farm is enrolled in the program.

2. Planting more than the wheat allotment or 50 percent of the feed grain base and substituting the excess acreage for the other crop or for cotton. This method applies regardless if the farm is enrolled in the program or not but cannot be used to protect a "new farm" base or allotment. It may also be applied where a producer without a feed grain base plants feed grain to preserve wheat or cotton or where wheat is planted without an allotment to preserve cotton or feed grains. Cotton planted in excess of the allotment cannot be substituted for wheat or feed grain history preservation.

3. Qualifying for prevented planting or failed acreage credit. This method applies whether or not the farm is enrolled in the program. Crop acreage qualifying for prevented planting cannot be substituted for preservation of another crop, but it can be used to protect a "new farm" base or allotment. Failed acreage in excess of the wheat allotment or half of the feed grain base can be substituted for the other crop or for cotton, but not to protect a "new farm" base or allotment.

4. Participating and complying in the wheat or feed grain program and forfeiting all or part of the payment. For instance, a producer plants 25 percent of his feed grain base for half of his history preservation and forfeits half of the payment for preservation of the remainder. This does not apply to cotton.

5. For farms that were enrolled in a long term land retirement program such as CRP (Soll Bank), CAP, and CCP Programs may have their allotments and/or bases preserved if the cover has been maintained after expiration of the contract or agreement. For more information about this type of allotment and base preservation, contact the Milam County ASCS Office.

HOG CHOLERA

A 60 - day restriction on movement of swine in Texas was ordered on Tuesday by the Texas Animal Health Commission in an effort to control hog cholera. The order becomes effective on March 29 and the movement of all feeder and breeder swine within the state will be allowed only by a permit issued after inspection of the herd from which they originate. Slaughter swine may be consigned directly to livestock markets for sale or slaughter or directly to slaughter houses.

Q - I operated my own business last year, but didn't make much money from it. How much income can I earn before I have to file a tax return?

A - If you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, you must file a Federal income tax return and you may have to pay a self-employment tax.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 liberalized the filing requirements for single wage earners and in some cases for married wage earners by increasing the amount of income required before a return need be filed. However, even if a return would not have been required based on his total income, a taxpayer still must file if his self-employment income was $400 or more.

See the instructions for Form 1040 and Schedule C (Form 1040) for more details.

Q - Each year I hear of cases where refunds are delayed because taxpayers make errors on their returns. What are some checks I can make to avoid an error and get my refund faster?

A - To insure the prompt processing of your return, you should check the following before sending your return: (1) Recheck all your mathematical computations; (2) Be sure you used the correct tax table or tax rate schedule and added the surcharge to your regular tax; (3) Be sure you used the peel-off label that came on the cover of your tax package (if you don't have the label, write name, address, and Social Security number in the spaces at the top of the front of Form 1040); (4) Be sure that your return is signed and dated; joint returns must have the signatures of husband and wife; (5) Be certain all W-2's and supporting documents are attached.

Jr. Hi Tracksters Win Relay Titles

Junior High Coach Maxie Morgan is triply proud of his young tracksters -- the eighth grade took the top honors Saturday in the Rockdale relays with 134 points, making their third straight title.

They scored over Belton, which had 129 5/6; Rockdale, 121 1/2; Taylor 111, A&M Consolidated 18 2/3 and Caldwell 6.

In the seventh grade division Cameron also took the first place trophy with 128 1/5 points. Taylor was next with 97 1/5, Belton 89 1/5, A&M Consolidated 51 1/5, Caldwell 12.

James Petty is seventh grade coach.

The eighth grade won the first place trophies for the 440 relay and the 1320 relay. Trophies for the seventh grade included those for the 440 relay and 1320 relay.

The 7th and 8th grades will be competing in the Rogers Junior High track meet Friday, April 1. Preliminaries start at 10 a.m. and finals start at 5.

"The Rogers Junior high track meet is always a highly competitive meet," Coach Morgan said, "we expect to meet some very tough competition there Friday."

MOST DANGEROUS

A three-year study by the University of Iowa shows the rotary power lawn mower to be the most dangerous of farm equipment. Out of 180 cases of amputations studied, 34 were credited to rotary powered lawn mowers; 20 to corn pickers with grain elevators and combines ranking third and fourth. Might be well to keep this information in mind when grass mowing time rolls around.

PRECAUTION

Warm spring temperatures are ideal for the spread of fertile screwworm female flies. Irrigated areas should be doubly watchful for the flies, warns veterinarians in charge of the screwworm eradication program. Worm samples from every animal infestation should be sent to the Mission Lab for positive identification.

By Danny Robbins

The first high school baseball game to be played in Cameron in almost a decade resulted in a 9 to 6 win Monday night for the Yoemen over the Rosebud-Lott Cougars.

Starting pitcher Lonnie Scott was relieved by Robert Brashear in the sixth inning to preserve the Yoemen's first regular season win.

The Yoemen scored 5 runs in the bottom of the first on a 3 run homer by Brashear and a 2 run single by Scott.

The Yoe batters added 3 more runs in the second inning on singles by Brashear and first baseman Mike Zajick. Yoe's final run came in the sixth inning on a double by Zajick.

Senate Cites Alcoa For Chimney

By adopting Senate Resolution No. 478 on February 24, 1971 the Senate of the 62nd Legislature of the State of Texas has extended congratulations to Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works "for taking a decisive lead in the fight against pollution and providing an example of the workability of the free enterprise system."

A copy of the Resolution, which was introduced by State Senator Murray Watson of Mart-Waco (Chairman of the Senate Committee on Environmental Matters), was prepared under the seal of the Senate, for the management of Alcoa's Rockdale Works "in appreciation of their concern for the public welfare."

After Senate adoption and certification, State Senator Watson then presented the Resolution to Rockdale Works Manager H. F. Chrisco, who said: "We are extremely proud of this very significant public recognition of our extensive and expensive environmental control program."

The Resolution points out that Rockdale Works is nearing completion of its current $1-1/2 million lignite dryer chimney cleanup project -- designed to effectively handle the dryer plume color problem.

The average weight of the human brain is 48 ounces.

Blind Snakes Are Plentiful But They Are Harmless

Each spring homeowners over the state sound the alarm about an invasion of snakes.

They call the police, the sheriff, the county health office, the county agricultural office and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Officials for the Parks and Wildlife Department have come to expect the rash of snake calls and are ready with some reassuring words to the homeowners.

Many of the snakes which are being found on lawns, in garages and even in houses are called blind snakes and are absolutely harmless.

If they appear to have sprouted wholesale out of the ground, it's because they have. They are burrowing snakes who emerge mostly at night to do some foraging.

Banded Pintail Duck Shot Down In Russia

News of the death of a Texas defector to Russia has come from Moscow.

The victim was brought down by small arms fire and most likely became an ingredient in some Russian's borsch.

It was a female pintail duck.

The bird was banded by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department on March 12, 1967, near Port Acres, and was shot near Ossa in Eastern Siberia on May 25, 1968, some 14 months and countless thousands of miles later.

It took almost three years for the band to return to Texas. I was returned by the USSR Academy of Sciences Zoological Institute, the Centre of Ringing and Marking of Birds and Terrestrial Mammals.

Biologists say pintails sometimes cross from Alaska to Siberia to nest, but they add that it is extremely rare for a bird to stray that far when tagged in the Central Flyway.

In the spring they are seen during the day more than usual. This may be because they are more active in the warm weather or because they don't want to drown in their burrows during a spring rain. In any case they come in contact with many persons who immediately identify them as baby rattlers and dispatch them with the nearest stick or rock.

There is actually quite a bit of difference between the appearance of a baby rattlesnake and a blind or "worm" snake. A baby rattler is about eight inches long and has a rather thick body when it is hatched and is pugnacious and aggressive from the start. The little blind snake is shy and retiring and just wishes that you would go away and leave him alone. They are about the size of a large worm (the record is a little more than a foot long), and less than pencil-thin. They usually range from four to eight inches long.

Blind snakes are really blind and rely upon their ability to follow chemical trails left by their prey.

Their prey consists of a few ants, larvae and pupae. Scientists have recently discovered a strange relationship between blind snakes and army ants.

A blind snake will stumble upon a column of army ants and will be immediately covered and stung mercilessly. The snake then coils into a tight ball and covers itself with a viscous liquid, and when it uncoils it can travel up and down the ant column with impunity, even sharing in the ant's booty.

This liquid serves as a defense against other would-be predators and is apparently the blind snake's only ace in the hole.

Because blind snakes are harmless and eat insects which could damage a lawn or garden, homeowners should be glad to have them around. But with most persons, it seems, snakes are an emotional issue, even if the tiny serpents are only four inches long.

Heavy Deer Harvest Results In Better Condition For Herds

AUSTIN White-tailed deer in the brush country of South Texas are in better physical condition in areas where hunting pressure was heavy during the past hunting season, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

Biologist Bob Weber of Carrizo Springs said the deer herds in areas where limited hunting took place, such as in northern Zavala County, are in poor condition. There has been some die-off in certain areas of South Texas, he said.

Biologists point out that hunting pressure is a valuable aid in deer management to keep the herds from overpopulating beyond the carrying capacity of the range. This harvest was even more important than usual this year, because of the extremely dry conditions which took a toll on forage.

Deer in southern Zavala County, and those in Dimmit and Maverick Counties, are in "very good shape considering the dry range conditions," Weber said. These areas are more heavily hunted than the northern Zavala area.

Biologist John Ellisor said deer on the department's Chaparral Wildlife Management Area near Cotulla are in fair condition, with no sick or weak animals observed. The area has had considerable hunting pressure in the past two years.

Duo Indicted For Making False Claims

Samuel James Jackson and Jessie Jeremiah Davis, both of Austin, were indicted recently for making multiple false claims for refunds of Federal income taxes.

A Federal Grand Jury at Austin charged Jackson with making nineteen false claims for refunds of 1968 and 1969 income taxes totaling more than $37,000.

The Grand Jury charged that Davis made eighteen false claims for refunds of taxes totaling $35,000 for the years 1968 and 1969. According to the indictment, the false claims were made through six different Internal Revenue Service Centers throughout the United States.

District Director of Internal Revenue R. L. Phinney in Austin said that the maximum sentence upon conviction for each count of filing a false claim is five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

"In view of the number of companies that are having or have had financial difficulties, most of which are not a result of management but the national economy, these bills will offer the policy holders the State's guarantee that they will be protected by the guaranty fund provided for in the bills," Watson said.

The insolvency bills dealing with the large legal reserve life insurance companies has drawn strong opposition from the insurance company officials, he noted.

The basic differences in approach between the State Board of Insurance and the life insurance company officials are:

First the Insurance Board wants to provide protection through an assessment provision and guaranty fund, whereas the insurance companies want the funds for protection to come from the general revenues of the State; Secondly, the Insurance Board wants strong regulation and control, while the company officials do not, Watson reported.

"The decision will have to be made as to whether the Legislature wants the State Board of Insurance to regulate the insurance companies and protect the policyholders or let the insurance company officials dictate to the State Board their desires and consequently provide the possibility of federal regulation," he said.

Jinks Grandson Is Waco Delegate On POW Paris Trip

Gary Jinks of Waco, grandson of John Jinks of Rt. 2, Cameron, has been named the 12th person in Waco's delegation to Paris on behalf of American prisoners of War.

Gary is a sophomore at McLennan Community College. He was chosen by the MCC Student Government last week. He is parliamentarian of the Student Government and acting parliamentarian of Texas Junior College Student Government Association.

Gary, 19, is majoring in business administration at MCC and is a graduate of Richfield High School. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Jinks of Waco.

MCC Student Government will take contributions from faculty, students, parents and other interested persons to collect $1,000 for Jinks' expenses.

The committee will leave Waco April 10 for Paris and return to Waco April 16.

Kubiak's Legislative Reports

Rep. Dan Kubiak reported a good response on the recent questionnaire printed in newspapers allowing constituents to express their views on legislative issues.

"This session, as each of you must realize," he said in his March 26 newsletter, "is very, very difficult, but it becomes so much more rewarding when people express their opinions and inform us how they really feel on vital matters."

The results will be tabulated by computer and will be published in local papers as soon as they are available, he added.

In other legislative news, Kubiak said he and Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur have co-authored HSR 266 which calls for the Attorney General and five state agencies and private groups to investigate jointly the controversial stock and loan transactions of several high state officials.

The resolution passed committee action and was to be voted on in the House this week.

"It is the first resolution that has passed the strong committee system and will, in effect, investigate the matter thoroughly," he said.

"This investigation will get to the heart of the matter so that the public can be properly informed of all details of the allegations made by the various news media," he added.

Named in the resolution to compile information for a report on the controversy are the Attorney General, the State Banking Board, the State Securities Board, the Insurance Board, the president of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants and the chairman of the Texas Investment Bankers Association.

Cameron Library Aids Shoppers

Whether your considering buying a car or face cream, the Cameron Public Library should be your first stop.

A new addition to the library shelves is the 450 page Consumer Reports, Buying Guide issue for 1971, and the monthly Consumer Reports.

Long noted for reports on major purchases, the Consumer Guide now includes such 'everyday' needs as shampoos, children's shoes, pad locks and canned hams.

A special page (a monthly feature) rates current movies, giving consensus critics ratings as well as the Consumer Report rating.

The monthly magazine not only rates products, but tells you how to use many of them. A report on interior latex paints in the March issue tells how to apply the paint, how many coats you will need for specific colors and how to clean up brushes, rollers and spills.

The March issue also warns against using the indoor toy 'Nerf Ball' in kitchens or around flame. Although it was found that the soft plastic foam ball would not ignite from a red hot cigarette tip, it would burst into flame and burn to a crisp in two seconds when touched by a lighted match, gas range or electric stove burner set on medium.

The annual Buying Guide issue includes information on:

Household appliances, kitchen, laundry and cleaning equipment and supplies, home maintenance materials, workshop tools;

Boating, fishing and camping equipment, swimming pool chemicals, lawn and garden products;

Government aids to consumers, consumer credit, guarantees and warranties, household moving, auto insurance, electric shock, heating the home;

Medical and health information, grooming products, clothing, electric typewriters;

Audio equipment, tape recorders, radio and TV, cameras and photographic equipment;

How to buy a new car, a used car, recommended makes and models, frequency of repair records, ratings on imported cars and pick-up trucks.

The Buying Guide and monthly Consumer Reports are classified 'research material' and for the convenience of more library patrons cannot be checked out of the library. There is comfortable, and well lighted reading space for using these and other magazines and periodicals at the library.

Youths Charged In Breakins, Vandalism At Area Schools

Cameron and Rockdale police officers, investigating breakins and vandalism at Cameron and Rockdale schools, this week charged three local juvenile youths with the offenses.

Police Chief Felipe Martinez and Rockdale police officer Harold Rich were the investigators.
Breakins have occurred at Yoe
High School and at Rockdale high and elementary schools.

Most of the items taken from Yoe High School have been recovered, including a tape recorder, tapes, ear phones, and several other items.

Vandalism was reported at the Rockdale elementary school.
The youths were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Charges of receiving and concealing stolen property were filed against Kenneth Ray Henson of Rockdale, Chief Martinez said.

New UR Board Okays Contract

Cameron Urban Renewal board members named Miss Mildred Thornton chairman succeeding
A. W. McCullin, Sr., who resigned the post two weeks ago to assume responsibilities of executive director.

The Urban Renewal board officially signed the contract for the downtown project of $617,- 585 in the Monday meeting. It completes preliminaries here prior to a second appraisal which is now underway.

James D. Camp continues as vice-chairman and Gene Blake is the new board member replacing McCullin. Other board members are Bill Burns, Albert Hajovsky, Dr. George Bowman, and Porter Young.

"The human heart rests about eight-tenths of a second between each contraction.

Errors Can Slow Income Tax Refund

Questionable interest deduct-tions slowed down the processing of hundreds of thousands of refund claims last year, A.
P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue for Temple, said today.

In some cases an examination of the interest deduction uncovered an error which meant additional taxes to be paid. In others, the return was accepted as filed, but the refund was delayed by the time required to examine the interest deduction.

Taxpayers planning to claim an interest deduction on their 1970 Federal tax return should be sure to read the instructions carefully to avoid errors -- and refund delays.

For taxpayers who itemize deductions, the interest paid on a home mortgage, a bank loan or debt may be deducted if the taxpayer is legally responsible for the payment. Interest paid for another person is not deductible.

A common case where an interest deduction is disallowed is when a parent makes a mortgage payment for his children.
The parent's claim for an interest deduction is disallowed unless the home is in his name.
